Jewish Population in the United States, 1972

THE ESTIMATE for the United States Jewish population in 1972 was 6,115,000. This was 2.94 per cent of the general resident population (exclusive of armed forces abroad). The estimate is a summation of individual community estimates with somewhat arbitrary adjustments within states for unknown Jews. The sources for these individual community estimates were replies to questionnaires addressed to members of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds and data supplied by the National United Jewish Appeal. The limitations of this methodology have been discussed in some detail earlier (AJYB, 1972 [Vol. 73], p. 384). It should be noted that the National Jewish Population Study (NJPS) preliminary evaluation indicates a total of no less than 6,000,000. Unless completed computations will vary markedly, this figure does not differ greatly from the 1971 total estimate of 6,060,000, based on the above procedures.
