

2010 Baltimore Jewish Community Study

By giving 18 minutes to answer the survey, you are helping the broader community and building a stronger and more vibrant future for us all.

- The study's results will offer an estimate of the size and characteristics of the Jewish population in Baltimore, helping us better understand the community's profile.
- The study's results will enrich our thinking and stimulate responses to the needs of our multifaceted community.
- This study's valuable data will inform future planning and strategies for our Jewish agencies, Jewish communal workers and synagogues, and will be used effectively by academics, the government, the media and many others.
- The study's results will be made accessible to any individual or organization who wishes to use them.

Survey calls are being conducted at random through May 2010.
